

HKICPA seminar:

Introduction to Intangible Assets Valuation (re-run)

Programme Code: S150424S

Intangible assets such as trademarks are often of significant value to many businesses and yet not all of them meet the recognition criteria of HKAS 38 Intangible Assets. They are often hidden from the statement of financial position despite their value. On the other hand, HKFRS 3 Business Combination requires the identification and recognition of intangible assets at fair value on the acquirer's statement of financial position, including those that were not originally recognised on the acquiree's statement of financial position, and this will impact both the statement of financial position and statement of profit or loss.

This seminar aims to introduce some commonly observed intangible asset types and commonly adopted valuation methodologies, with the use of numerical examples to facilitate understanding of the subject.
