

HKICPA workshop:

The finance team as project controllers – efficient cash management

Programme Code: W140317S

Managing projects whether internal or client-driven ones is an integral part of every company's success platform and needs to be: strategic; planned; driven and co-ordinated. The key objective is to deliver success into the business to enhance sustainability.

The role of the finance team is to ensure that resources are well-managed; directed effectively and utilized to maximum effect. As Finance people are by nature: objective; analytical; strategic thinking and have a good grasp of timescales, it makes clear, logical sense to use this team as project controllers.

This workshop will help delegates to recognize the key phases of a project and ensure that financial controls are established for each phase. In addition, delegates will gain an understanding of project management from a financial perspective, the need to take a longer-term view and keep the project objectives in full sight throughout the challenges and delays that will arise.
