

HKICPA/CIMA joint seminar: Global Management Accounting Principles

Programme Code: S150126

Globalization and technological advancement impose challenges on human resources and systems and require organizations to respond appropriately to risks and protect value that they created. The Global Management Accounting Principles are developed to improve decision-making in the face of these challenges. The Principles were released as a result of research from across 20 countries in five continents. They provide a blueprint for effective analysis that can be universally applied in organizations large and small, public and private.
