RSM Hong Kong

Jason is the Head of Technology and the Blockchain and Crypto Asset Industry Leader of RSM Hong Kong, with over 20 years of auditing and consulting experience. He also leads the APAC IT Advisory Hub for strategic regional development at RSM International.

Jason has been with RSM since 2004 and was a member of RSM US global expat team before joining RSM Hong Kong in 2016. He was originally based in the RSM New York office providing audit and consulting services to financial institutions and asset management companies.

Currently, Jason leads the Technology and Management Consulting division at RSM Hong Kong in providing IT audit, security and privacy, digital transformation and ERP advisory services for regional and global clients. He is also a member of the firm's Management Committee, where he significantly contributes to shaping the firm's IT strategy, direction, and digital marketing initiatives.

Jason held the position of the Asia Pacific Regional Leader of RSM International from 2020 to 2023, working closely with RSM member firms to implement the global strategy within the region. This involved overseeing crucial areas such as brand management, client service, marketing, business development, training, service offerings and succession planning. As the Industry Leader, Jason initiated the Blockchain Fellowship program for RSM Asia-Pacific to upskill the existing financial and IT auditors' domain knowledge in blockchain and crypto assets.

Additionally, Jason is also an active speaker at industry seminars held by HKIoD, HKCGI, HKICPA, LawSoc, sharing his technical knowledge and experience in blockchain, IT security and digital transformation areas. Jason is extremely passionate in tech entrepreneurship and help building the next generation of technology leaders in Asia Pacific region.
