

Forensic Accountancy & Business Valuation for Litigation Purposes (re-run)

Programme Code: S110307S

Cannibalism effect in forensic accountancy was initially conceptualised by Mr Benny K B Kwok in a High Court action about ten years ago. Many new aspects have since evolved in forensic accountancy as a derivative from litigations and alternative dispute resolutions. Forensic accountancy now provides expert assistance in cases of fraudulent transactions, accounting irregularities, contract disputes, shareholders' deadlocks, land resumptions, business interruptions, personal injuries, matrimonial breakdowns, royalty audits, professional negligence and business valuation. Whether it is a dispute, fraud, compliance issue or regulatory investigation, problems can quickly arise, spiral out of control and cause severe damages. Failure to appreciate the scope and expertise of forensic accountancy can cost claimants, defendants and other stakeholders billions of dollars and even personal freedoms.

In respect of business valuation, the merits of asset-based method against earning-based method as well as the International Valuation Standards (IVS) will be evaluated in this seminar. Globalisation is changing the landscape of many professions, and the IVSs are being more widely adopted by authorities and institutions throughout the world as the benchmark in valuation. In this seminar, Mr Kwok will reiterate the key points of his business valuation paper published by the Law Society of Hong Kong in 2009.
