ABOUT THE SEMINAR

What is network security? How does network security work and how are you protected by it? What are the business benefits of network security?

With network security in place, your company will be protected against business disruption, which helps keep employees productive by protecting your customers' data and reducing the risk of legal action from data theft. Ultimately, network security helps protect a business's reputation, which is one of the most important issues.

At this seminar, Mr. Michael Gazeley, Managing Director and Co-founder of Network Box Corporation Ltd, will highlight the dangers (with examples) in the cyber world and how organizations can protect themselves from the vulnerabilities of cyber criminals and hackers.
