ABOUT THE SEMINAR

Cybercriminals are becoming more and more sophisticated with every coming year. To combat such threats in the years ahead, information security professionals must understand cyber security which involves protecting the information by preventing, detecting, and responding to attacks. It is even more crucial to small- and medium-sized enterprises ("SMEs"), which may not have the resources to handle the challenges.

At this seminar, Mr. Matthew Wu, consultant of HKCERT managed by Hong Kong Productivity Council, will highlight the security challenges facing SMEs. Potential vulnerability to SMEs arising from hackers, security mitigation measures and tips will also be covered.

IT Security Challenges among SMEs

ABOUT THE SPEAKER

Mr. Matthew Wu is a consultant of the Hong Kong Computer Emergency Response Team Coordination Centre ("HKCERT") [香港電腦保安事故協調中心], Hong Kong Productivity Council ("HKPC").

Mr. Wu has been working in the HKCERT for more than 3.5 years and is one of the key consultants in the team. He has over 15 years of IT working experience in banking, systems integration, telecommunications and consultancy industries. He is a holder of Certified Information Systems Auditor and Certified Information Systems Security Professional certifications.

Managed by HKPC, HKCERT is the centre for coordination of computer security incident response for local enterprises and internet users. Its missions are to facilitate information disseminating, provide advices on preventive measures against security threats and to promote information security awareness. HKCERT collaborates with local bodies to collect and disseminate information, and coordinate response actions.
