

Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants Practising Certificate ("PC") – Law

Syllabus

This document contains the syllabus and the required level of competence for PC – Law examination. Candidates should note that PC – Law examination adopts the same syllabus of Qualification Programme ("QP") Module 10 – Business and Company Law. A learning pack is available for QP Module 10 to assist students to prepare for their examination.

To better understand the scope of PC – Law examination, candidates should be aware of the following:

1. Learning pack and learning outcomes

The learning pack is published on an annual basis. It is the study materials written for the syllabus topics. Candidates should understand that it is not the only study materials for examination and they should read extensively to equip themselves for their examinations. The latest edition of the learning pack is the 2nd edition which could be downloaded from the PC Examinations Online Resources Centre. In the learning pack, candidates can find the syllabus and the updated prescribed learning outcomes for the syllabus topics.

2. Cut-off on legislation

The examinable contents are determined on 31 May each calendar year (cut-off date) which applies to the June and December sessions in the following calendar year, except where the legislations or pronouncements are considered significant and specified by the Institute and communicated to the students as examinable starting from the December session in that calendar year.

The determination of examinable contents refers to both the release date of the pronouncements (or the enactment date of legislations) and their corresponding effective date.

Candidates will be examined on legislations and the Institute's pronouncements that meet the following conditions:

Condition 1: Have been released / enacted on or before 31 May of that calendar year; and

Condition 2: Have been effective / will be effective on or before the end of the following calendar year.
