About the seminar

Since the China Securities Regulatory Commission and People's Bank of China jointly promulgated the Qualified Foreign Institutional Investors Regulation in November 2002, the market has shown a keen interest in monitoring its development as well as its potential impact on further market opening measures.

This presentation will provide a brief introduction to the related regulation, as well as how Hong Kong investors can participate.

About the speaker

Mr. James Wong is the Senior Vice President in charge of HSBC's custody and clearing operation in Hong Kong, as well as its securities lending and issuer services business in the region. James is a qualified accountant, and worked with HSBC's corporate and retail banking businesses before moving into his current position. He was a director of Hong Kong Clearing since 1995 until its merger with the other Hong Kong exchanges and clearing houses to form the Hong Kong Exchanges and Clearing Limited in 2000. James is now a member of the Clearing Panel of HKEx.

Mr. Wong has been actively involved in all aspects of market infrastructural and regulatory developments in Hong Kong and also has responsibility for regulatory and infrastructural development in the Chinese securities market. He has been a member of various consultative committees and working groups initiated by the SFC, most recently as a member of the HKMA Working Group on the Securities & Futures Bill and the SFC's SCEFI User Working Group. James is also the convenor of the Hong Kong Custodians Group.
