Introduction

Regulating CPAs

The Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants is the licensing body for professional accountants in Hong Kong and is responsible for regulating the conduct of certified public accountants. As part of its regulatory function, the Institute addresses complaints concerning ethical and professional conduct of its members, member practices and registered students.

Compliance with the Institute’s professional standards is a requirement of membership. Complaint and disciplinary processes are key mechanisms by which the Institute regulates the conduct of its members with sanctions being imposed for serious breaches.

Compliance department

The compliance department carries out the Institute’s function of regulating the ethical and professional conduct of CPAs. Integrated within are systems for continuous monitoring supported by independent process review. The core activities of the department are:

Enforcement	Promote Professional Conduct
<ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ Case assessment and investigation▪ Disciplinary action▪ Reporting section 42 offences	<ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ Promote good practice▪ Raise awareness on current issues

This report sets the compliance department’s key activities and associated operations, and related statistics for 2014.

Complaints

What is a complaint?

Complaints must be in writing, supported by adequate evidence indicating that a member has failed to follow professional standards issued by the Institute or committed other improper acts.

Sources of complaints

Compliance department's role

Complaints are objectively analyzed by the compliance department to determine if there is reasonable suspicion that a prima facie case exists. Before conducting enquiries of our members, the department will ensure that the subject matter is:

- within the jurisdiction of the Institute; and
- supported by sufficient evidence.

If representations on the matter are needed, the respondent will be notified by the compliance department.

Professional Conduct Committee

The PCC comprises both CPAs and lay persons. The PCC evaluates each complaint independently, based on the information supplied by the complainant and the respondent.

When deliberating cases, the PCC:

- Considers each case in light of the circumstances and expected conduct of the member under the relevant professional standards; and
- Is mindful of the Institute's commitment to uphold the quality of professional standards and the positive public perception of the profession in Hong Kong.

Types of actions under PCC's terms of reference

Dismissal	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Instances where there is insufficient evidence to show prima facie case against a CPA• Subjects outside HKICPA's jurisdiction• Advisory letter may be issued for less than exemplary conduct
Adjudicate minor complaints	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Disapproval letter issued for minor prima facie cases• Direct other course of action as appropriate
Recommend actions for serious complaints	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Recommend Resolution by agreement (RBA) for potential disciplinary cases of moderate severity• Recommend referral of serious prima facie cases to the Disciplinary Panels

Resolution by Agreement (RBA)

In February 2014, the Institute launched the RBA mechanism to conclude potential disciplinary cases of moderate severity in lieu of disciplinary proceedings. This allows an effective alternative method to resolve potential disciplinary cases which meet pre-determined criteria in a timely manner.

Criteria:

- Complaints under sub-paragraphs (vi), (viii), (ix) and (x) of section 34(1)(a) of the PAO;
- Cases not contested by the respondents; and
- Cases not involving complaints of dishonesty.

Other factors:

- Nature and seriousness of a complaint.
- Any relevant precedent cases.
- Any past disciplinary records of the respondent.
- Any aggravating or mitigating circumstances.

Applicable terms:

- Mandatory public censure including publication of the RBA terms and relevant facts.
- Optional administrative penalty not exceeding HK$50,000.
- Other actions, such as payment of costs, and additional conditions and restrictions, as deemed necessary by Council.

The terms within the RBA are non-negotiable. If it is not accepted by all stakeholders, the complaint will automatically be referred to the Disciplinary Panels.

In 2014, five RBAs were successfully completed to conclude the following types of cases:

S.34(1)(a)(vi) of PAO: Failure or neglect to observe, maintain or otherwise apply a professional standard.
Breach of relevant profession standards		Penalty
1	S.100.5, 150 of COE	Reprimand; Penalty of $10,000
2	S.100.5, 130 of COE	Reprimand; Penalty of $10,000
3	HKSIR 300	Reprimand; Penalty of $30,000
4	HKSA 250, HKSA 700	Reprimand; Penalty of $10,000
5	S. 450 of COE	Reprimand; Penalty of $10,000

Note:

Costs of $10,000 were ordered to be paid by the respondents under the RBA scheme.

Disciplinary proceedings

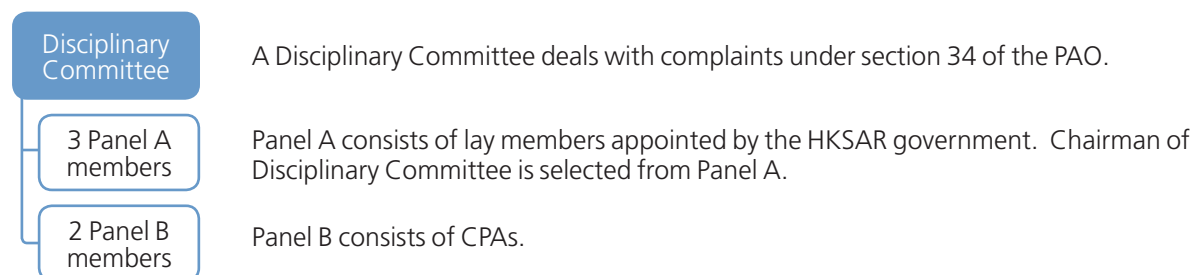

What is a disciplinary proceeding?

When Council concludes that a complaint is sufficiently serious to warrant the referral to the Disciplinary Panels, a Disciplinary Committee will be constituted to adjudicate the complaint by undergoing the following process:

For details on disciplinary process, visit: <http://www.hkicpa.org.hk/en/standards-and-regulations/compliance/disciplinary/>

Disciplinary Committee

Compliance department's role

- Compliance team supports the legal team which acts as the Representative of the Complainant in disciplinary proceedings.
- A member of compliance staff, independent of the Complainant, acts as clerk in providing administrative support to the Disciplinary Committee. In complex cases or upon request of the respondent, an external clerk may be engaged.

Statistics

Sanctions imposed by Disciplinary Committees:

Level of financial penalties ordered by Disciplinary Committees:

Period of removal and cancellation of practising certificates ordered by Disciplinary Committees:

A summary of disciplinary orders issued in 2014 is at APPENDIX 1.

Investigations

What is an investigation?

Council may constitute an Investigation Committee when:

- it becomes aware of a matter which gives a reasonable suspicion or belief that a Member has not followed professional standards issued by the Institute or has committed other improper acts; and
- the powers of an Investigation Committee are needed to assist the Council in determining if a case should be referred to the Disciplinary Panels.

Investigation Committee

Compliance department's role

- Provide support to the Investigation Committee in gathering evidence in accordance with the Committee's instructions.
- Following the commencement of operations by the Financial Reporting Council (FRC) in July 2007, the responsibility for investigation of matters involving listed entities has been assumed by the FRC. Accordingly, the Institute is only responsible for investigations of non-listed entities and those involving listed entities which commenced before July 2007.
- There are two ongoing investigations and no new Investigation Committee constituted in 2014.

Section 42 offence

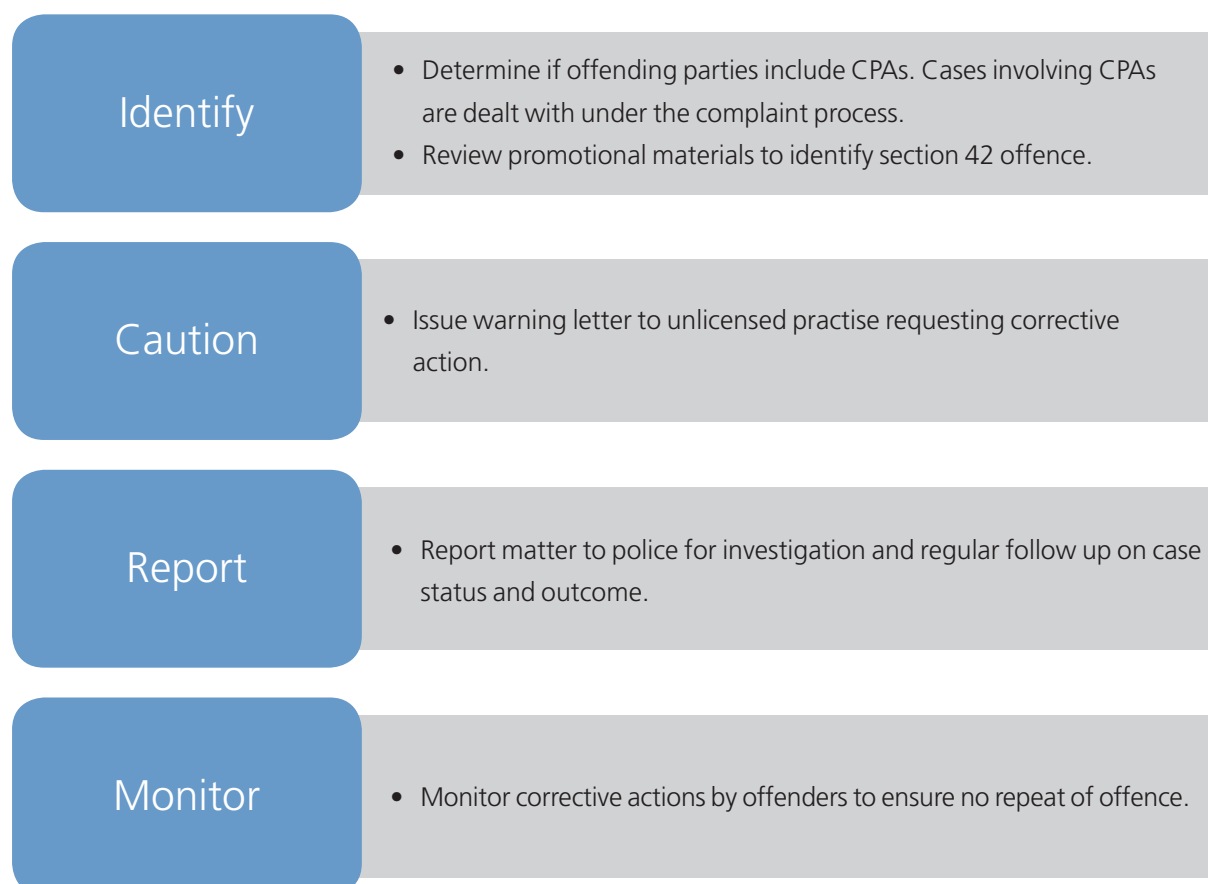

What is a section 42 offence?

A common type of complaint concerning non-members involves apparent violations of section 42 of the PAO. This type of offence generally involves individuals or companies that:

- fraudulently represent themselves to be qualified and registered to practise as a CPA (practising); or
- are not CPAs but knowingly permit the use of “certified public accountant” or “CPA” in their name or in connection with their business.

Compliance department's role

Complaints against non-members are not reported to the PCC. In order to uphold the integrity of the profession, the compliance department undertakes the following procedures to deal with section 42 offences:

Responding to a complaint

What should a CPA do when threatened with a complaint?

- Provide all relevant assistance to the interested party with the objective of minimizing the risks associated with a complaint.
- Handle the matter in accordance with the complaint handling policies and procedures of the firm. See HKSQC 1 for further guidance.

What should a CPA do when a complaint has been filed with the Institute?

1. Understand the issue of the complaint and try to resolve the matter, if possible.
2. Read the complaint handling procedures on the Institute's website.
3. Provide relevant documents and explanations in writing and in a timely manner.
4. Provide explanations carefully and thoroughly.
5. In case of uncertainty, contact a representative of the Compliance Department at 2287-7026 or compliance@hki CPA.org.hk.

Regulatory oversight

Regulatory Accountability Board

The Regulatory Accountability Board was set up to ensure that the regulatory function of the Institute is carried out in accordance with strategies and policies determined by Council, and in the public interest.

The RAB consists of CPAs, representatives of Hong Kong regulators and lay members. To carry out its responsibilities, the RAB undertakes the following functions:

As part of its oversight functions, the RAB conducted a process review of the operations of the compliance department in 2014 for the purpose of:

- assessing whether the compliance department adheres to established internal procedures;
- evaluating the quality of procedures and time taken to deal with cases; and
- identifying areas that require improvements and making recommendations thereon.

The results of the process review indicated that:

- ✓ Cases were dealt with in accordance with established internal procedures.
- ✓ No criticisms of the quality of case handling.

Recommendations were made to improve case processing time and file documentation.

A report on the process review issued by the RAB in April 2015 is published on the Institute's website. Visit: <http://www.hkicpa.org.hk/en/standards-and-regulations/compliance/publications-reference/>.
